Explanation

Watershed Resource Center (WRC) -located inside SWNI's office- inspires awareness and action on behalf of watershed health in Portland. The center works through a partnership between SWNI and the City of Portland Bureau of Environmental Services (BES). The BES grant supports neighborhood stewardship groups providing education, outreach and community involvement for watershed projects. The WRC publishes educational articles on ways residents can improve the health of local watersheds and share volunteer opportunities. The WRC hosts an annual open house for BES to share projects in progress in southwest Portland. The WRC received a partnership funding grant through West Multnomah Soil and Water Conservation District (WMSWCD) allowing SWNI to hire part time staff to support programs and projects that educate, inspire, and increase capacity for restoration on public and private property. Stormwater workshops educate residents on how to reduce stormwater runoff, improve stream health, reduce flooding, and learn landscaping options.
